WHAT IS A MEMORIAL BOOK?

*“And a book of memorial was written before God
For those who revere and honor Adonai.
‘And they shall be My treasured possession’,
Said the Eternal God.”*
Malachi 3:16-17

The Memorial Book, whose origins can be found in the biblical Sefer Zikkaron, developed during the medieval period of Jewish history. Commonly known as “Memor-Buch,” these books were essentially written memorials to the dead and were intended to serve as an inspiration to the living.

The earliest “Memor-Buch” extant is from the community of Nuremberg in 1296. These memorial books are the unique product of Jewish piety. From these books, historians have learned much concerning the philanthropy, the prayers, the hopes and the persecution and martyrdom of medieval Jewry.

It has always been customary in Israel to remember the dead, to pray on their behalf, to present offerings for them and to hand their names down to posterity.

Thus, we follow a hallowed Jewish tradition. This booklet will be placed in the safe keeping of our archives, so that the names spread upon these pages will forever be linked to the chain of love which binds together this congregation and the household of Israel.

Temple gratefully acknowledges the many contributions dedicated in tribute to their loved ones.

As with any human endeavor, errors sometimes occur. Please accept our sincere apology for any names which have been incorrectly spelled or accidentally omitted.

Sacred Journeys

Outreach to Members at Times of Loss, Bereavement, and Mourning

Sacred Journeys volunteers reach out to the Temple community:

- With a condolence call when there is a death in the family
- Offer chicken soup, made by volunteers, and challah to the person(s) who has suffered a loss
- Make a follow-up call a few months after the family death.

At the time of the first anniversary of the death:

- Send a yahrzeit candle in the mail, send a personal note, and make a phone call to family members.

We sponsor Kever Avot, the annual Cemetery Memorial Service.

Please let us know if you would like to join us as a volunteer:
contact Jennifer Phillips at jphillips@tdhs-nw.org or (206) 693-3047.

Sacred Journeys is supported by the William and Edith Warshal Fund for Sacred Journeys, and by donations from Temple members.
