A Movie, Munchies, and Mah-jongg

Enjoy bagels and coffee while we watch a 30-minute video shedding light on the (un)common experiences of the Jewish & Asian-American women who play this centuries-old game that both defines & transcends cultural boundaries. Then Madeline Weinstein, SJCC Community Programs Coordinator, will share her experiences of growing up around the game, why she loves it so much, and engage us in a discussion about how the game has impacted so many growing up Jewish in America. At noon, those who know how to play mah-jongg are invited to stick around and play a round with other attendees. Join us in person at the Stroum Jewish Community Center, 3801 E Mercer Way, Mercer Island, WA 98040.
